

Rice Street Commercial Property Owners Meeting

On February 12, 2009 Ramsey County provided a meeting opportunity for the commercial property owners along Rice Street that may be impacted by the interchange improvement project. Representatives from Ramsey County, City of Roseville, City of Maplewood, City of Little Canada, and consultant staff were on hand to listen to concerns and answer questions. Ten individuals attended the meeting representing the interests of several businesses. A similar meeting will be held in early summer after the design progresses.
